AFT Pharmaceuticals partners with Farmaforce

Farmaforce Limited ("Farmaforce") (ASX:FFC) a contract sales organisation offering innovative solutions to the Australian pharmaceutical industry, today confirmed its formal partnership with AFT Pharmaceuticals Limited ("AFT Pharmaceuticals") (ASX: AFP) to provide representation to healthcare practitioners and professionals.

Founded in 1997, AFT Pharmaceuticals has a myriad of health products in their growing portfolio across more than 40 countries.

Farmaforce's ongoing representation will bolster AFT's footprint in the Australian market by promoting a range of AFT health products to practitioners whilst supporting the pharmaceutical company's vision to provide easy access to innovative products that help people.

Farmaforce was founded in 2016 and holds more than 25 pharmaceutical organisational partnerships. The AFT partnership will broaden Farmaforce's product line in the Australian market.

"We are proud to represent AFT and its 20-year journey in the healthcare sector," Farmaforce General Manager, Natalie Urner said.

"We have the best-trained representatives in the sales force sector, and we will provide AFT with the same best in class, over and above service you would expect from an in-house team, which has solidified Farmaforce as trusted leaders in our field."

AFT Managing Director, Hartley Atkinson added, "We are excited to work with Farmaforce to extend our salesforce in our key Australian market. With some 30 products to launch over the next 18 months, including a number requiring presentation to doctors, we see this as an important step forward."

Any partnership fees aren't considered material. This announcement has been authorised by Farmaforce General Manager, Natalie Urner.
