28 April 2022 — Mobilicom Limited (Mobilicom or the Company, ASX: MOB) is pleased to provide this activity update for the quarter ended 31 March 2022 (Q1 FY22), along with the Company's Appendix 4C cash flow report.

Operational Overview

Mobilicom is gaining traction with its end-to-end product offering, securing 10 new orders from global drone and robotics manufacturers during the quarter. Valued at $970,000, these sales are a combination of repeat orders, cross-sell of additional smart solution components to existing customers, and design wins generating new orders, including a $560,000 purchase order from an existing leading US commercial drone manufacturer arising from a design win and successful field trials.

Commenting on the Company's Q1 FY22 performance, Mobilicom CEO Oren Elkayam said, "The conflict in Ukraine has highlighted the importance of drones in modern warfare, increasing demand for our field-proven hardware and software. The extensive use globally of Israeli-made reconnaissance and Kamikaze (loitering) drones (IAI, Elbit, Rafael) demonstrates the superiority of these solutions for defence applications, which remains the largest user of drone technology to date. Our smart solution components are already incorporated into next generation ISR (intelligence, surveillance and reconnaissance) and Kamikaze drones by several top-tier manufacturers, reflecting the importance of design wins on future orders and revenues. The conflict is also increasing defence spending, which is expected to drive long-term demand for our technology.

"Our planned dual-listing on the NASDAQ will enable us to scale our presence in the US – the world's largest commercial and defence drone market. Importantly, a US presence builds credibility and strategically positions us for contracts with the US Department of Defence and NATO countries, leveraging our extensive experience with Israel's Ministry of Defense. US operations are also essential for commercialising our cybersecurity software with US-based manufacturers and end-users."

$560,000 order from US drone manufacturer

In April, Mobilicom received a $560,000 purchase order from a leading US commercial drone manufacturer. The order follows a design win and successful field trials last year with Mobilicom's in-built high-definition video processing capabilities to be integrated within the customer's unmanned systems for long range and non-line of Sight (N-LOS) communication. Mobilicom has commenced fulfilling this order, which will be delivered throughout 2022.

New & repeat orders

The recent Abraham Accords peace treaty between Israel and several Arab nations has resulted in Mobilicom receiving a significant initial order from a leading government organisation from one of these countries. This business win opens new growth markets and opportunities for Mobilicom.

In addition to securing new customers, Mobilicom continues to fulfil repeat confirmed purchase orders from its existing customer base, including Israel MOD, Censys, Teledyne-Flir and Elbit. As of 31 March 2022, Mobilicom had confirmed order backlog of $700,000, due for delivery throughout 2022.

In-field implementation of Mobilicom's ICE Cybersecurity software is progressing to schedule with the Israel Ministry of Defence. This important technical validation will assist in increasing adoption of the world-first AI-based 360° software by other leading drone and robotics manufacturers.

Corporate

During the quarter, Mobilicom commenced the process for a NASDAQ dual-listing, appointing a lead underwriter, preparing registration statement on Form F-1, and lodging initial confidential filings with the US regulatory authorities. Funds raised under the IPO will be used to accelerate Mobilicom's growth strategy - expanding its footprint in the US, increasing sales and marketing activities in its key target markets, fast-tracking the rollout and development of its cybersecurity and software offering, and supporting working capital.

A NASDAQ listing would further enhance Mobilicom's presence in the world's most mature drone and robotics market for both commercial and defence applications. Mobilicom is quickly building its US customer base, which includes Teledyne-Flir, Sarcos, and Censys. A US listing would also increase partnership and M&A opportunities, and progress product qualification and procurement processes with the US Department of Defense (DoD) and other US Government programs.

Mobilicom's NASDAQ listing is anticipated in Q3 FY22.

Financial

Customer receipts increased to $832,000, up 19% over the prior corresponding period, driven by new business wins and repeat orders from existing customers. In addition to orders fulfilled during the quarter, Mobilicom had confirmed order backlog of $700,000 as of 31 March 2022.

Total Q1 2022 expenses were in line with average 2021 quarterly costs, reflecting continuing efficient cash management. Mobilicom has a long operational runway with a cash balance of $3.2 million as of 31 March 2022.

Outlook

Mobilicom continues to execute its growth strategy within the fast-growing drone and robotics market, securing design wins from new and existing drone manufacturers, including global Tier-1 customers, and growing revenue contribution from these customers through repeat orders and bundled component offerings, and commercialising its world-first AI-based 360° cybersecurity software. Mobilicom has a unique value proposition in the industry, offering multiple key smart components for drones and robotics platforms. The Company's funded research and development programs support its ongoing product innovation, ensuring its technology remains at the forefront of the industry.
