

RENT.COM.AU QUARTERLY ACTIVITIES REPORT FOR Q1 FY21

Rent.com.au Limited (ASX: RNT) ("Rent.com.au" or "the Company"), Australia's website made for renters, presents its quarterly activities report for the quarter ended 30th September 2020.

Key Points:

- › Record quarterly revenue of $753k driven by a 41% growth in Renter Products
- › Continued EBITDA improvement despite increasing RentPay investment
- › Core rent.com.au portal business records first positive quarterly EBITDA
- › RentPay redevelopment on track, additional innovation opportunities arising
- › $2.3m cash on hand after oversubscribed placement

Operating Overview

"We're thrilled with the record revenue results that the team have achieved for the September quarter. We saw a 12% lift in traffic compared to the same period last year as renters returned to the market, with record product sales and engagement metrics highlighting the usefulness of our site to customers embarking on their renting journey," said Rent.com.au CEO, Greg Bader.

Quarterly Revenue

"We are seeing a tiered market starting to emerge. Our two largest cities (Melbourne, Sydney) have vacancy rates greater than 2019 but most regions are seeing the opposite, with some cities experiencing record low levels of stock availability. This creates a more competitive market in which to secure a property, meaning renters who can differentiate themselves and provide evidence of their good standing have an advantage. This is where our Renter Products shine".

“Renter Resume continues to perform well, up 33% on the previous quarter and averaging around 800 per day. RentCheck, which allows renters to have their identity verified and themselves checked against the National Tenancy Database, increased 30% over the same period.”

“Renters are also looking to reduce cost of living expenses and our RentConnect product, which is offered in partnership with AGL, provides renters not only with a great ongoing energy deal but also a $100 gift card from Rent.com.au. The partnership is working well with the average number of customers signing up to AGL growing by 24% since the June quarter.

“This quarter has not been without its challenges. Despite the number of people moving, demand for our bond finance product, RentBond, has been weaker than usual because of alternate sources of funding such as access to superannuation and also renters being more cautious about borrowing as is typical in uncertain times.

“Likewise, our Advertising revenue too has been affected. Advertising revenue has mirrored the general fall seen across the media market, although we expect the impact to be short-lived and in fact we have already seen an increase in advertising demand with October 2020 on track to be a record month for advertising revenue.”

“We have maintained our ruthless focus on cost efficiency throughout the quarter, however we have continued to increase our investment into the development of RentPay with one-off recruitment costs for new staff hires in our software development team and other RentPay costs accounting for the increase in costs during the quarter. If we ignore the RentPay impact on EBITDA, the rest of the Rent.com.au business recorded its first ever positive EBITDA quarter.

“While profitability in our core business is a fantastic achievement and underpins our sustainability, we remain focussed on building a substantial and influential business for the long term. That means we will continue to invest in the innovative products and services needed to take advantage of the $60 billion per year tenancy market.”

RentPay Update

“Development of RentPay has surged ahead over the past quarter, with the completion by Novatti of the core digital wallet functionality and most of the payments integration layer.

“We also signed ANZ to provide transactional banking services to RentPay, allowing us to leverage their scale and expertise to provide lower cost and more timely services for renters.

“The RentPay ecosystem aims to transform the way rental payments work in Australia (and beyond) by giving renters more control and flexibility over their payments, while still being able to deliver value to the agent/landlord side of the transaction. At the same time, it builds a sustainable annuity revenue base for our business,” explained Mr Bader.

“Extensions to provide finance, utility and insurance products will only amplify the value proposition for renters. Moving into the tenancy period of a renters life cycle opens up a market 20 times greater than Rent.com.au's current market, with 2.4 million renting households who collectively pay more than $60 billion in rent per year.

“We have entered the testing phase of RentPay development and will soon be launching our first live customer trials.”

Outlook

“Our team continues to pull out all stops to deliver the best results we can. This quarter we delivered our strongest ever revenue and EBITDA results while also completing an oversubscribed placement to raise $1.5 million (before costs). This sets up the business to complete the development of RentPay and launch our move into the tenancy period.

“We know revenue drops off during the December quarter due to seasonality (no one wants to move house over Christmas) and any further COVID impacts are unknown. We will manage these as best we can while continuing to focus our efforts on completing the development of RentPay ready for what we expect will be a strong March quarter if restrictions continue to ease,” concluded Mr Bader.

Disclosures required under ASX Listing Rules:

Payments to related parties of the entity during the quarter totalled $100k, comprising office rent and outgoings paid to entities associated with Dr Garside. Office rent is on favourable, market standard terms negotiated independently of Dr Garside.
