Market Update – AFL enters Alice Springs

The Board of AF Legal Group Ltd (ASX: AFL) (Company or AFL) is pleased to announce that it will open its 17th office in Alice Springs in the Northern Territory.

Following the completion of the Withnalls acquisition, AFL has expanded its footprint further in the region by securing a presence in Alice Springs. The demand for family law legal services in Alice Springs is acknowledged by the Family Court in its establishment of a localised registry to service the region.

“For over a decade Withnalls has been visiting and servicing clients from all over the Territory which has included Alice Springs as the second largest city in the Territory. With a population of circa 25,000, Alice Springs is not to be underestimated for the prosperity of its business, pastoral and agricultural stakeholders and the people that support these industries. In addition to our desire to capture market share in Australia’s centre it is notable that we are the first specialist family law firm in history to open in Alice Springs and provide specialty services and support to central Australia”, said Executive Chairman Grant Dearlove.

The Alice Springs office will open on 21 February 2022.

The Board of AFL has approved this announcement.
