NRW awarded additional T155 port expansion works for Fortescue

NRW Holdings Limited (ASX: NWH), leading provider of civil and mining services to the resources sector in Australia, has been awarded a further $112 million earthworks, concrete works, piling and track works contract at Fortescue Metals Group's (Fortescue) Herb Elliott Port facility as part of the T155 Expansion.

The scope of works to be undertaken in the ten month contract includes:

- Earthworks – consisting of 1.8 million cubic metres of cut to fill, 26,000 cubic metres of rock protection and 34, 000 cubic metres of road base in the stockyards and associated areas;
- Concrete works – consisting of 9,000 cubic metres of structural concrete
- Piling – 4,800 bored piles
- Track Works – consisting of 4 kilometres of rail installation.

NRW Holdings chief executive officer Jules Pemberton said of this award. "NRW has worked consecutively on Fortescue projects since early 2007 and we are proud to be assisting Fortescue to achieving the planned T155 expansion as scheduled."

NRW has had a team on site at Herb Elliott Port since November 2010, undertaking the initial civil packages for the Early Works and the T60 Project. The original scope of works is scheduled to finish as the new contract scope commences. NRW workforce will peak at approximately 220 employees, with work to commence immediately.
