- DAX Listing to broaden Company’s exposure to the European Investment community, especially considering Vanadium is a globally strategic metal and can store renewable energy with VRFB’s
- VR8 joins a growing list of other ASX dual listed Vanadium companies listed on the DAX
- German Investor Relation group engaged to assist with promotional marketing of VR8

Vanadium Resources Ltd (“Company” or “VR8”) is pleased to announce the the dual listing of the Company’s shares on the Frankfurt Stock Exchange. The Company’s shares will trade under the code “TR3”.

The Frankfurt listing enlarges VR8’s investor reach and increases its exposure to European markets, which are specifically complimentary given Vanadium is a globally strategic metal and will play a big role in the storage of renewable energy with VRFB’s (Vanadium Redox Flow Batteries). The Frankfurt Stock Exchange is one of Europe’s largest stock exchanges. More than 50% of the total trades on the Frankfurt Stock Exchange are conducted through investors in countries outside of Germany.

The Company joins a growing list of ASX listed Vanadium companies that have been dual listed on the DAX, such as Neometals Ltd (ASX: NEO DAX: 9R9), Australian Vanadium Ltd (ASX: AVL DAX: JT71) and TNG Limited (ASX: TNG DAX: HJI) to name a few.

Jurie Wessels, Executive Chairman of VR8 commented: “With increasing awareness of Vanadium’s demand, both as a strategic metal and its use in the storage of renewable energy, we are pleased to have listed on the Frankfurt Stock Exchange, to provide the Company exposure to the European Investment community. Europe is a driving force behind the push for green metals and renewable energy, so investors are well informed on how Vanadium will play its part in this new green era. We are also pleased to be working with Dr Reuter Investor Relations, whom I have worked with before successfully in another company.”

¹Refer to ASX Announcement 22 June 2021.
